Syracuse, Texas, California and Iowa are the four host schools for the 2K Sports Classic benefiting the Wounded Warrior Project to be held at Madison Square Garden in November 2014, the organizers announced Wednesday.

The four schools will play two home games on their respective campuses before meeting at MSG Nov. 20 and 21 for semifinal matchups to be determined. The semifinals and finals will be televised by ESPN.

Syracuse, Texas and Iowa are all projected to be in the NCAA tournament while Cal sits on the bubble heading into this week's Pac-12 tournament.

Syracuse continues its plan on playing games at MSG after leaving the Big East for the ACC. The Orange played St. John's at the Garden this past season.
