The Iowa basketball team will take on Texas in the semifinals of the 2K Classic on Nov. 20 at Madison Square Garden in New York.

The game, which will start at 6 p.m. and be televised by ESPN2, will be part of a doubleheader that also includes a game between Syracuse and California. The two winners will meet the following night at 6:30 p.m. with the losers of the semifinal games meeting at 4 p.m.

Texas was 24-11 last season and returns all five starters while also adding 6-foot-11 Myles Turner, one of the nation's top incoming recruits.

Iowa State also announced its semifinal opponent for an early-season tournament Wednesday. The Cyclones will take on Alabama in the CBE Hall of Fame Classic on Nov. 24 at 8:30 p.m. in Kansas City. Arizona State and Maryland play in the other semifinal.
