LUBBOCK, Texas — Kevin Fleming scored 15 points to help lead San Jose State past Portland 82-53 Friday in the consolation game of the 2K Sports College Hoops Classic.

San Jose State's Tyree Gardner played 14 minutes.

Despite having eight team fouls in the first seven minutes of the second half, San Jose State (1-1) managed to build a 29-point lead after being up by 14 at halftime. Portland (0-2) shot under 40 percent from the field, although the team was 42 percent from behind the 3-point line.

Menelik Barbary scored 12 points while grabbing 13 rebounds for his first double-double as a Spartan.

Portland kept close in the first half but then allowed the Spartans to take a 15-point lead, thanks in part to a 18-5 run before the 3 minute mark.

Pooh Jeter finished with 13 points in the effort for the Pilots along with Kevin Field, who had a double-double with 10 points and 10 rebounds.

The win is San Jose State coach George Nessman's first Division I victory as a head coach.
